Apollo Engineer Jerry Woodfill shares Apollo stories with Librarians, Museum staff, Solar System Ambassadors & Others

➢ Webinar with Apollo NASA Engineer (for 54 years) Jerry Woodfill was facilitated from the Johnson Space Center by JSC Astromaterials in partnership with STAR Library Networks on July 9, 2019.

➢ Webinar reached 100+ informal educators including Librarians, Museum Staff, Solar System Ambassadors, Airborne Astronomy Educators and other educators from 27 states.

PARTICIPANT QUOTES:

➢ "What a wonderful opportunity to learn about Apollo missions from someone who experienced it."
➢ "NASA needs more people like Jerry and keep bringing inspirational people and subject matter to the webinars."
➢ "This was a great program to help us with our work to excite people about space exploration. Thank you!"

Susan Runco, NASA Astromaterials Research & Exploration Science (ARES), susan.k.runco@nasa.gov; Paige Graff, ARES, paige.v.graff@nasa.gov