

COMPTON SPECTROMETER AND IMAGER

COSI

Exploring the creation and destruction of matter in our Galaxy and beyond

Germanium detectors in a telescope similar to what COSI will use

Simulated COSI images of our Galaxy showing gamma-rays from antimatter annihilation (blue, top) and Aluminum (red, middle-top), Iron (green, middle-bottom), and Titanium (yellow, bottom). These products are created during the evolution of massive stars.